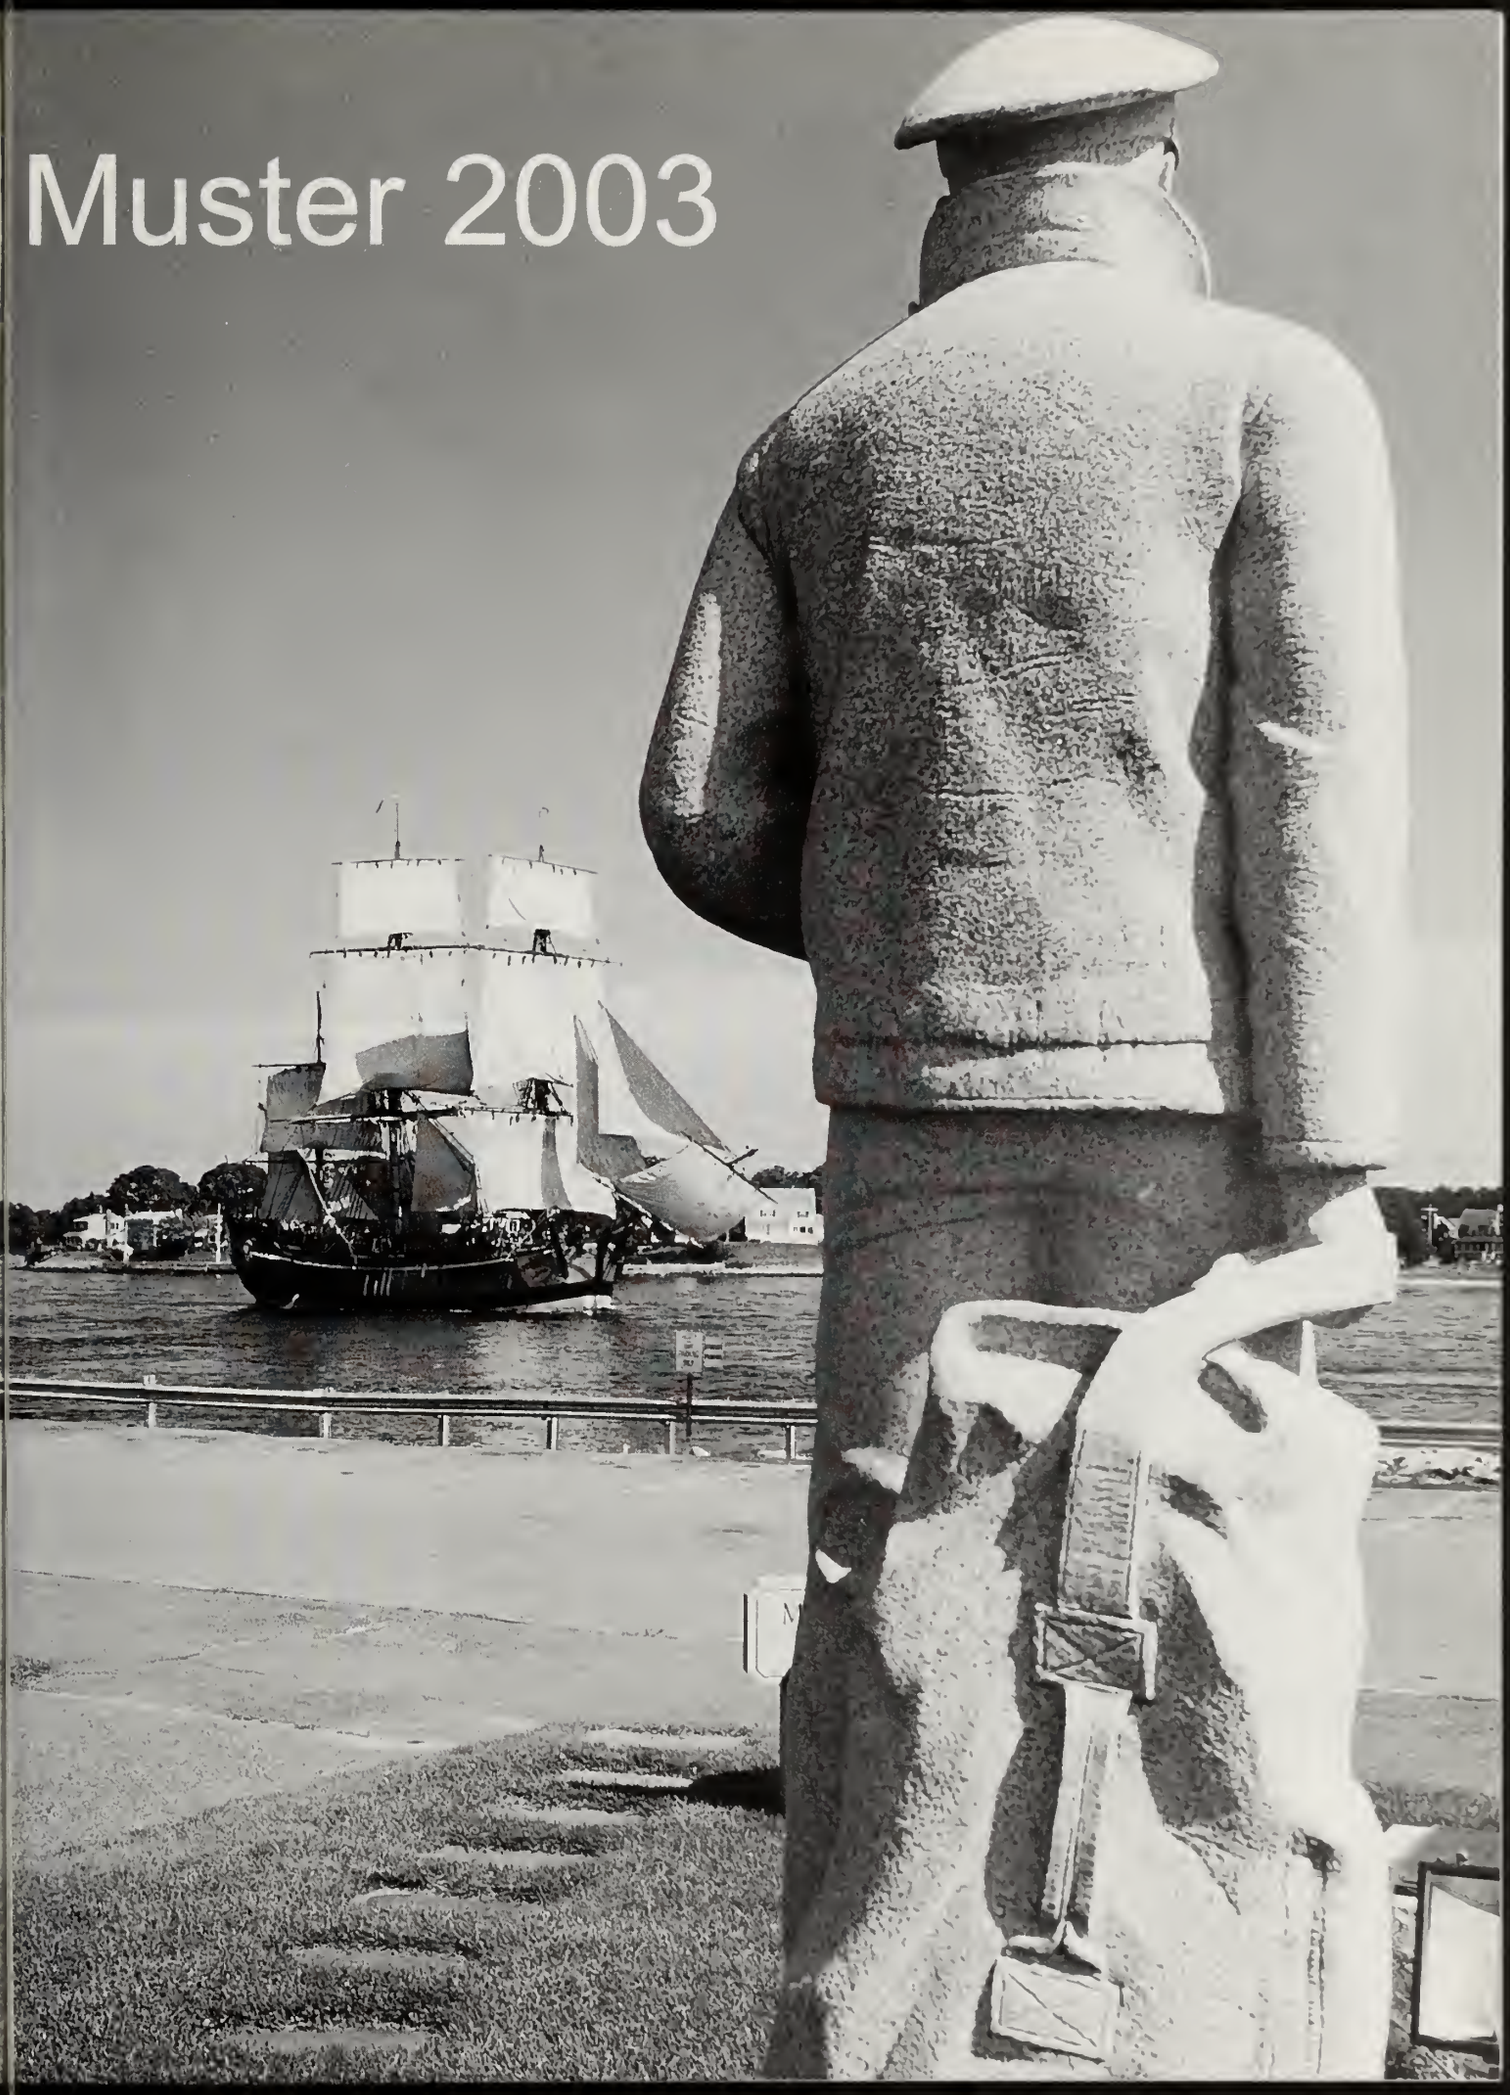
Muster 2003



Dear Shipmates from the Class of 2003,

I must tell you that I always welcome the approach of Commencement with all of the elation and sense of accomplishment that it brings but I also recognize that it carries with it a feeling of nostalgia.

Watching you all grow and mature over the past four years and recounting your many accomplishments and contributions during that time focuses my attention on the wonderfully cyclic nature of life here at the Academy.

The thought that another link in the chain that forms the long blue line has been forged and sent forward to join your fellow alumni in the worlds of commerce and service, is both encouraging and refreshing.

You are a wonderful group of young men and women. The leadership that you have provided through your hard work and good example leaves a positive legacy and lasting imprint on the younger cadets who follow you.

On behalf of your terrific faculty and staff, who have contributed so much to your progress and success, I wish you all God speed during long, healthy and prosperous lives.

Best regards,

Moss Bresnahan

Congratulations to the class of 2003!

I have a vivid memory of yon entering the main doors of alumni Gym on that Sunday in August of 1999- a gaggle of somber individuals, alternating between excitement and anxiety at the approach of the MMA adventure about to begin. The Regimental staff had two jobs immediately ahead of them: teach discipline and turn this cluster of strangers into a team of shipmates. After watching closely for the past four years, I can tell Rob Mortensen and Jim Cunningham that they achieved their goal. The Class of 2003 leaves this Academy as a cohesive team of professionals, ready to represent their class and their college in the world. During the intervening years of your residence on campus, much has changed. Certainly the campus has been undergoing dramatic change. The canal-side building went from Copeland to Blinn and from vacant derelict to show piece. The new engineering building went from dream to design to digging. And at long last...your ship came in. Less obvious, but more important, was the change taking place within each member of the Class of 2003. Over time you internalized the discipline begun by the Class of 1999 and learned to drive yourselves to achieve. You learned well the lessons taught by your faculty and staff, accumulating the knowledge of the professional and adding the practical experience of your on the job training. Leadership became real to you, not just readings from a book, and the classes of 2000-2002 were the beneficiaries of your new skills.

Finally, ready in all respects, you don your dress whites or black robes and stand for a muster near the same gym that launched you on your MMA voyage four years before... mustered for the last time as the Class of 2003. The cycle is completed. Congratulations on a job well done!

Regards,

Rick Gurnon
Commodore, MMA

The Last Ship
Glenn Ward Dresbach (1889-1968)

If men who love ships were to choose the last to be a final vision from the sea
It would be one of lofty, slender mast with bright sails filled and lifted gloriously.
It would be such a ship as dreamers knew by island coast-lines when the dawn was mist
Of stardust and great rubies stricken through with breakers' foam and bays' tossed amethyst.

It would be a ship that proud adventurers rigged up for gold coasts and the pearl lagoon,
And all the dreams they had would yet be hers,
Come in from distant voyages near the moon
It would be such a ship as makes men sad with beauty for romance they might have had!

Sea Fever

John Mansfield (1878-1967)

I must go down to the seas again, to the lonely seas and the sky,
And all I ask is a tall ship and a star to steer her by,
And the wheel's kick and the wind's song and the white sail's shaking,
And a grey mist on the sea's face and a grey dawn breaking.

I must go down to the seas again, for the call of the running tide
Is a wild call and a clear call that may not be denied;
And all I ask is a windy day with whote clouds flying,
And the flung spray and the blown splume, and the sea gulls crying.

I must go down to the seas again again to the vagrant gypsy life.
To the gull's way and the whale's way where the wind's like whetted knife;
And all I ask is a merry yarn from a laughing fellow-rover,
And a quiet sleep and a sweet dream when the long trick is over.
